

Destination Unknown Euro-med Youth Ambassadors' Programme

CALL FOR APPLICATIONS

What is the programme?

Destination Unknown is looking for young, motivated leaders from the Euro Mediterranean region (Europe, Middle East, Northern Africa) to become our Youth Ambassadors and help protect children on the move both within their respective countries and regionally.

6 candidates will be selected and invited to attend (fully financed) an international 2-day capacity-building programme in Malta on 17 and 18 February 2020. The future Youth Ambassadors will learn strong advocacy tools and practices for changing policies, working practices, and legislation related to children on the move.

Following the training, Destination Unknown will support the Youth Ambassadors in leading efforts to protect children and young people on the move from exploitation in their respective countries, making the voices of children and young people on the move heard in the media and in public discourse, and building a network of organizations and activists for child rights in the region.

Who can apply?

Applications are open to all young people from countries in the Euro-Mediterranean region who are passionate about protecting children's rights. Applicants must be affiliated with or are able to obtain the endorsement of an organization working on migration in the region.

Applicants should:

- be aged between 18 and 30
- demonstrate a proven track record of activism or advocacy for child rights and/or migrants' rights
- have a valid passport and be able to travel for the training (February 2020)
- fill in and submit the Destination Unknown Youth Ambassadors Application Form by December 18 together with a letter of endorsement from an organization working on migrants' or child rights in their respective country or region.
